

Course Title: N 370 Concepts in Scholarly Writing

Course Description:

This course introduces the students to the concepts of scholarly writing required for academic papers, research activities, and publications. The focus of the course will be the review and critique of peer research and scholarly publications from multiple disciplines and sources. The student will be required to write a formal query letter and paper for a selected nursing journal. The concepts of QSEN and the use of technology in health care will be introduced in this course.

Course Objectives:

At the end of this course, the student will be able to:

1. Examine the meaning and importance of the concept of scholarly writing in higher education and social media.
2. Analyze current research initiatives and peer reviewed publications using APA format.
3. Integrate critical thinking skills and theoretical concepts from nursing and other disciplines in decision making.
4. Synthesize evidence based practice and re
5. search in providing holistic nursing care to individuals, families, groups, and communities.
6. Utilize technology and information resources to communicate effectively with diverse patient populations and others in the multidisciplinary health care team.
7. Demonstrate specific skills and competencies in oral and written communication.
8. Demonstrate skills necessary to function proficiently in an online learning environment using technology and other information resources.